

<http://www.foreignpolicy.com>

NET EFFECT: HOW TECHNOLOGY SHAPES THE WORLD

pollingreport.com

Media Tenor is currently analyzing the U.S. media's coverage of the 2004 presidential campaign, and it's crucial to have the latest poll results to compare with our own data. The Web site of Public Opinion Online collects the most important U.S. public opinion polls conducted by Harris Interactive, the Pew Research Center for the People and the Press, and others.

publicintegrity.org

The Center for Public Integrity's Web site contains analysis on public policy issues around the world, including the annual Global Integrity Report, a report on corruption and accountability in 25 nations. Indices of media ownership are also available.

cmpa.com

For more than 25 years, the nonpartisan Center for Media and Public Affairs (CMPA) has conducted some of the best media-related research available. The center's Web archive is an easily accessible resource for, among other things, CMPA's long-term research on the role of television news in the United States.